

Child Development

Course CODE (823200): Child Development (Yearlong course 1 credit)

Grades: 10,11, 12

Description:

This course is designed to focus on analyzing parenting roles and responsibilities, ensuring a healthy start for mother and child, evaluating support systems that provide services for parents, and evaluating parenting practices that maximize human growth and development. Critical thinking, practical problem-solving using case studies, and entrepreneurship opportunities within the area of parenting responsibilities and child development are emphasized.

CERTIFICATIONS

Industry certifications and/or credentials available to students enrolled in these programs are Workplace Readiness Skills.

BENEFITS for STUDENTS

Students gain knowledge on the proper methods of child supervision
Develop schedules to ensure that children have enough physical activity, rest, and time to play
Implement curriculum and record progress
Participating in growing diversity in education
Exploration of career path via internship experience

POTENTIAL CAREER PATH

The study of education may lead to careers including:

- occupational therapist
- principal/administrator
- reading specialist
- school counselor
- social worker/school psychologist
- special education teacher
- teacher
- educational consultant
- project manager
- training coordinator