

WE THE PEOPLE
GREATER THAN

WHY COMBATTING INTOLERANCE?

Because you recognize the need to confront injustice, inequality and intolerance.

Because you want to advocate for social justice, equity and positive change in the world.

Because you believe in changing hearts and minds, systems and structures.

"Injustice anywhere is a threat to justice everywhere."

-Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

COMBATTING INTOLERANCE

WHAT WE WILL LEARN

This elective course examines fundamental human rights issues which emerge within diverse societies. Themes of study include the nature of prejudice, stereotyping, bias, and discrimination; individual and governmental responsibility; and the ways in which individual choices can both combat or promote intolerance. Themes of study include, but are not limited to:

- ✓ Black Lives Matter & Racism
- ✓ LGBTQIA+ Rights & Homophobia
- ✓ Xenophobia & Religious Tolerance
- ✓ Feminism & Misogyny
- ✓ Media Literacy & Disinformation!

WHAT WE WILL DO

CURRENT EVENT DISCUSSIONS

Explore controversial and emotional topics related to injustice and inequality with empathy, self-awareness and critical thinking.

GUEST SPEAKERS & FIELD TRIPS

Invite and meet experienced individuals and professionals who make change.

PROJECTS & ACTIVE LEARNING

Student Choice - YOU DECIDE!

Questions? Email
Mr. Baldwin dbaldwin@fcps.edu